CONTENTS
Volume 45 (1990)

Determination of race and sex of the human skull by discriminant function analysis of linear and angular dimensions – an appendix 1–3
by D.R. Johnson, P. O'Higgins, W.J. Moore and T.J. McAndrew (Leeds, U.K.)
Screening for drug use among Norwegian drivers suspected of driving under influence of alcohol or drugs 5–14
by A.S. Christophersen, H. Gjerde, A. Bjorneboe, J. Sakshaug and J. Morland (Oslo, Norway)
Use of regression analysis in reconstruction of maximum bone length and living stature from fragmentary measures of the ulna 15–25
by P. Badkur and S. Nath (Bhobal and Delhi, India)
Identification of human urinary stains by the quotient uric acid/urea nitrogen 27–38
by K. Sata, H. Tsutsumi, H.H. Htay, K. Tamaki, H. Okajima and Y. Katsumata (Nagoya, Japan)
Haptoglobin typing of human bloodstains using a specific DNA probe 39–46
by T. Yokoi and K. Sagisaka (Sendai, Japan)
Rapid TLC identification test for khat (Catha edulis) 47–51
by T. Lehmann, S. Geisshüsler and R. Brenneisen (Bern, Switzerland) Traumatic basal subarachnoid hemorrhages: autopsy material analysis 53–61
by A. Gross (Cracow, Poland)
The application of half-silvered mirror in conjunction with casting techniques to document examination 63–71
by S.C. Leung and M.M.H. Tang (Wanchai, Hong Kong)
Use of a gaseous electrical discharge to induce luminescence in latent fingerprints 73–83
by N. Meylan, C.J. Lennard and P.A. Margot (Lausanne, Switzerland)
A method for the handling of carbon film ribbons and recording on to video tape using a high speed electronic shuttered camera 85–89
by A. Filby and M. Stokes (London, U.K.)
Clandestine manufacture of 3,4-methylenedioxymethylampetamine (MDMA) by low pressure reductive amination. A mass spectrometric study of some reaction mixtures 91–96
by A.M.A. Verweij (Rijswijk, The Netherlands)
Detection and identification of HLA antigens in dried spleens by means of enzyme linked immunosorbent assay (ELISA) 97–105
by A. Bishara and C. Brautbar (Jerusalem, Israel) Disappearance rate of alcohol from the blood of drunk drivers calculated from two consecutive samples; what do the results really mean? 107–115
by W. Neuteboom and A.W. Jones (Rijswijk, The Netherlands and Linköping, Sweden)
Linearization of the relationship between postmortem plasma chloride concentration and postmortem interval in rats 117–128
by D. Querido (Cape Town, Republic of South Africa)
Storage of blood for methemoglobin determination: comparison of storage with a cryoprotectant at −30 °C and without any additions at −80 °C or or −196 °C 129–134
by K. Sata, K. Tamaki, H. Tsutsumi, H. Okajima and Y. Katsumata (Nagoya, Japan)

Further evaluation of immunocytochemical staining in the diagnosis of early myocardial ischaemic/hypoxic damage 135–141
by S. Leadbeatter, H.M. Wawman and B. Jasani (Cardiff, U.K.)
Age estimation by IBAS image analysis of teeth 143–150
by M. López-Nicolás, A. Luna and M. Canteras (Murcia, Spain)
Screening of myocardial contraction bands: a comparison between two histological staining methods 151–157
by E. Ståhl (Linköping, Sweden)
An experimental model of death from anaphylactic shock with compound 48/80 and postmortem changes in levels of histamine in blood 159–169
by Y. Hieda, M. Kageura, K. Hara, M. Takamoto, Y. Fukuma and S. Kashimura (Fukuoka, Japan)
Melatonin concentrations in the sudden infant death syndrome 171–180
by W.Q. Sturner, H.J. Lynch, M.H. Deng, R.E. Gleason and R.J. Wurtman (Cambridge, MA) Screening Test of stimulants in human urine utilizing headspace gas chromatography for field test 181–189
by H. Tsuchihashi, K. Nakajima, M. Nishikawa, S. Suzuki, Y. Oka and K. Otsuki (Osaka and Higashiosaka, Japan)
Letter to the Editor 191–192
Diary of Future Events 193–194
G3M T typing by dot immunobinding with monoclonal anti-G3M T antibody 197–200
by M. Fukuda, T. Kishida and Y. Tamaki (Oita-Ken, Japan)
An evaluation of the polymerase chain reaction method for forensic applications 201–215
by S.A. Westwood and D.J. Werrett (Reading, UK)
Excretion of alcohol in urine and diuresis in healthy men in relation to their age, the dose administered and the time after drinking 217–224
by A.W. Jones (Linköping, Sweden)
Transferrin polymorphism detected in human urine using isoelectric focusing followed by immunoblotting 225–230
by K. Kishi, Y. Ikehara, T. Yasuda, K. Mizuta and W. Sato, (Fukui, Japan)
Determination of deslanoside in antemortem and postmortem specimens. Unusual case report 231–238
by M. Klys and A. Gross (Krakow, Poland)
Fatal thrombosis of the basilar artery due to a minor head injury 239–245
by S. Sprogøe-Jakobsen and E. Falk (Odense, Denmark)
A fentanyl fatality involving midazolam 247–251
by B. Levine, J.C. Goodwin and Y.H. Caplan (Baltimore, MD)
Post-mortem drug redistribution – a toxicological nightmare 253–263
by D.J. Pounder and G.R. Jones (Dundee, Scotland and Alberta, Canada)
Abnormalities encountered in infrared examinations of ball pen writing over correction fluid 265–271
by D.S. Moore (Sacramento, CA)
Traffic accidents and drivers suspected for drug influence 273–280
by L.Q. Christensen, L.M. Nielsen and S.L. Nielsen (Copenhagen, Denmark)
